

Rudgwick School

A Great War Report

Roger Nash

This Great War Report is written to accompany the erection of Rudgwick School's centenary war memorial, which commemorates 27 ex-pupils of the school who died in the war between 1914 and 1919. It contains biographical and service information on each man.

The erection of the memorial on an outside wall of the present school building was made possible by the generous sponsorship from J Gumbrill Monumental Masons, part of Freeman Brothers, Horsham, and by contributions from the sale of Rudgwick's Great War, also by Roger Nash, published in 2018 by Rudgwick Preservation Society.

This book is presented to the school in the knowledge that it may inspire teachers to use it in the classroom and for remembrance every November.
